

ETHICAL AND ANTI-CORRUPTION CONSIDERATIONS IN SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT: CASE STUDIES

21ST JUNE, 2022 | 6 CPD Points | KISM TOWERS, NAIROBI

TARGET GROUP

Procurement and Supply Chain Professionals, Staff involved in the procurement activities, Auditors, and Project Implementers in Public Entities, Private Organizations, and NGOs

INTRODUCTION

Organizations, professionals and suppliers often seek to address ethics and professional conduct through prescribing frameworks or influencing organizational cultures that mitigate fraud, corruption and misconduct. Rules governing ethics and anti-corruption are generally written in broad conceptual terms rather than in specific situational or descriptive terms. This leaves room for procurement experts and players to apply constructive innovation, and professionalism in the spirit of the law within existing procedural options.

This training seeks to enable participants to appreciate that ethical practices form pillars to economic growth, sustainable development and risk management.

WORKSHOP OBJECTIVES

By the end of the workshop participants should be able to:

1. Embrace ethical behaviour for attainment of value for money in procurement and disposal functions.
2. Comply with the law, procedures & ethical codes of conduct.
3. Comprehend the effects of corruption and unethical practices in society.
4. Evaluate personal ethical beliefs and align them to sound professional conduct.
5. Demonstrate understanding of sanctions against unethical and corrupt procurement practices.
